

Vesper Holdings Launches In-House Student Housing Management Company

April 7, 2016 Published in The Latest News

The clubhouse at The Harrison in Harrisonburg, Virginia, owned by Vesper Holdings.

Austin, Texas — Vesper Holdings has announced the launch of its in-house student housing management company Campus Life & Style (CLS) to manage its rapidly growing portfolio of off-campus apartment communities.

Based in Austin, Texas, the CLS team will be led by COO Jim Sholders, who most recently served as senior vice president at American Campus Communities. On the design side, Vesper has tapped top New York interior designer Jon Call, whose work has been featured in The New York Times, Elle Décor and Interior Design Magazine.

“Our goal is to provide the top-tier atmosphere found in high end boutique hotels with a primary focus on customer service, hospitality, a social environment, a top tier fitness program and groundbreaking design to drive demand for our communities,” says Elliot Tamir, co-founder of Vesper Holdings.

With over 10,000 beds spread across 12 markets, Vesper’s student housing portfolio is one of the largest in the nation.